“We are pleased with our first quarter retail performance. Spring/Summer 2013 was a standout season driven by innovative marketing, cohesive monthly fashion groups and exceptional execution from all corporate and regional teams.

Looking forward, the macro outlook remains uncertain and we will continue to focus our investment on profitable high growth opportunities by channel, region and product categories.”

In line with the modification of disclosure previously announced, Burberry today updates on retail revenue for the first quarter.

Retail
At £339m, retail sales in the small first quarter increased by 21% at reported FX and 18% at constant FX (Q1 2012: £280m). Of this 18%, comparable store sales growth was 13%, with the balance from new space.

In what remained an uneven trading environment, there was an exceptional consumer response to Spring/Summer 2013, helped by cohesive monthly fashion groups and record reach and engagement generated by the advertising campaign and runway shows. Consistent product strategies drove growth in mainline, with outerwear and large leather goods accounting for over half the growth, mens accessories and tailoring outperforming and Prorsum and London again increasing penetration. Reflecting changing consumer behaviour, footfall was soft offline but grew strongly online. Conversion rates improved again.

By region, there was double-digit comparable store sales growth in Asia Pacific and the Americas and high single-digit growth in Europe, Middle East, India and Africa (EMEIA), the newly formed region integrating Europe and Rest of World. Offline, growth was led by Hong Kong and China, while France and Germany remained robust and Korea showed early signs of improvement. Online performed strongly globally, benefiting from full integration into the regional infrastructure.

During the first quarter, Burberry opened seven mainline stores and closed six. Openings included two stores in Shanghai, a third store in Mexico and a relocation in Frankfurt.

Outlook
The following outlook is unchanged from the preliminary results in May 2013.

Retail: Net new openings are planned to contribute low to mid single-digit percentage growth to retail revenue in FY 2014.

Wholesale: Excluding Beauty, Burberry expects underlying wholesale revenue to decrease by about 10% in the six months to 30 September 2013 (2012: £253m).

In addition, with Burberry directly operating Beauty from 1 April 2013, wholesale revenue of about £140m and incremental retail/wholesale operating profit of around £25m is expected in FY 2014. This will be weighted towards the second half, reflecting the impact in the first half of the move from licence to direct operation.

Licensing: In FY 2013, licensing revenue, excluding £27m royalty income from fragrance and beauty, was £82m. In FY 2014, Burberry expects growth from this level to be slightly positive at constant FX and broadly unchanged at reported FX.

Retail/wholesale profit: For FY 2014, the plan is to modestly increase from the operating margin achieved in FY 2013, which was 17.1% without the £12m benefit of a lower performance-related pay charge. Reflecting the evolution and phasing of the business, adjusted PBT for the six months to 30 September 2013 is currently expected to be below the level of the prior year (£173m).
