Burberry Group plc First Quarter Trading Update

“We are pleased with our progress in the quarter. The team has embraced Riccardo’s creative vision and is working well together as we prepare for his debut collection in September, the next step in our journey. While we know it will take time to achieve our ambitions, our progress to-date and the energy in and around the company give me confidence for the future.”

Marco Gobbetti, Chief Executive Officer

Highlights

- Solid performance in retail in a period of transition, with comparable sales +3%

Constant exchange rates (CER) removes the effect of changes in exchange rates compared to the prior period. This takes into account both the impact of the movement in exchange rates on the translation of overseas subsidiaries' results and also on foreign currency procurement and sales through the Group's UK supply chain.

Comparable sales is the year-on-year change in sales from stores trading over equivalent time periods and measured at constant foreign exchange rates. It also includes online sales.

Certain financial data within this announcement have been rounded.

Cumulative cost savings are savings compared to FY 2016 operating expenses.

Exchange rates

At 29 June 2018 effective rates, the expected impact of year-on-year exchange rate movements on FY 2019 reported adjusted operating profit is around £25m adverse. This improvement of about £15m compared to our previous guidance of around £40m adverse at 30 April 2018 spot rates is principally due to Sterling depreciating against the US and Hong Kong dollars. For the full year we expect a marginal currency benefit to revenue, with a headwind in the first half more than offset by a benefit in the second.

Exchange rates	Forecast effective rates for FY 2019		Actual average exchange rates FY 2018
	29 June 2018	30 April 2018
£1=
Euro	1.13	1.14	1.13
US Dollar	1.32	1.38	1.33
Chinese Yuan Renminbi	8.68	8.71	8.79
Hong Kong Dollar	10.34	10.81	10.37
Korean Won	1,466	1,473	1,473

Retail calendar

With effect from 1 April 2018, Burberry is preparing its full year consolidated financial statements to the Saturday nearest to the 31 March.

- For FY 2019, there will be no material difference between the comparability of the prior year and current year income statement
- On a reported basis in FY 2019, there will be some phasing impact on quarterly revenues resulting from a difference in trading days under the new and old financial reporting calendars
- To aid with comparability, in FY 2019, any revenue differences arising from the changes in reporting calendar will be split out separately

IFRS 15

With effect from 1 April 2018, Burberry is preparing its full year consolidated financial statements according to the new accounting standard IFRS 15 relating to revenue from contracts with customers.

- Under the new standard, revenue is recognised when a customer obtains control of a good or service. The impact of adopting this standard has been assessed and will result in a delay in the timing of a portion of the Group's digital revenue
- Based on this assessment, the impact of IFRS 15 on FY 2018 results is not significant and hence FY 2018 will not be re-stated as a result of the adoption of the standard
- There will be some phasing impact on quarterly revenues. To aid with comparability, in FY 2019, any revenue phasing differences arising from the adoption of IFRS 15 will be split out separately.
